

Trigeminal Neuralgia and Old Scar Tissue Causing Abdominal Pain and Dysfunctions

I ran into Justine at an Anti-aging/Health show. I was in so much pain that I was getting ready to leave. I saw her booth, she was giving an osteopathic treatment to someone. I was drawn to her for some reason. Right away, before I spoke she could see the pain in my face. I had been in extreme pain for 6 months with a condition called Trigeminal Neuralgia, there is no cure for it. The condition basically can start from a trauma or an illness and can last for a week, a month, or a lifetime. I had a car accident, six months ago, I was rear ended and as a result, I have been in constant pain with the neuralgia and whiplash ever since. After 6 months of different types of therapy treatments I just couldn't seem to find healing or permanent pain relief.

Justine gave me a 25 minute treatment on the spot. She explained exactly what Trigeminal Neuralgia was and how the jolt from being hit from behind had moved my cranium and it was blocking everything and pressing on the trigeminal nerves. She also explained how osteopathy can relieve the pain and coupled with acupuncture can heal the bones. Justine said I would receive much pain relief from this treatment. I had faith in her because she was one of the few health practitioners that understood what Trigeminal Neuralgia is and the intensity of the pain that it can cause. She was also willing to treat me if front of a whole group of people. She was right the pain was gone. I knew then that she had the gift of healing. I immediately signed up for a treatment plan, I might add that there was no sales pitch or pressure at anytime.

Justine takes the time to examine you, speak with you and yes listen to you so she can understand your whole body's health. Through this she was able to identify another very painful problem that I had been suffering with for 15 years, as result of 2 bouts with cancer. I had swollen, inflamed scar tissue that was getting harder and larger all the time. It was causing me a great deal of pain, bladder and bowel problems, digestive disorders, pelvic, abdominal and lower back pain. After the car accident the condition worsened and I didn't realize it but some of the other treatments that I was taking was making the condition worse. Justine had the knowledge to diagnose the cause of the pain, and treat the inflammation and hardening of the tissue, she also took the time to show me how to manage the condition. I once again received immediate pain relief and I could feel the healing process beginning after the first treatment. Basically, I felt amazing. Over the years, I had been told that I had scar tissue and complications from surgery and cancer treatments and that there was not much that could be done. Justine must have the key to the secret garden of healing that the conventional medical system isn't privy to.

Justine is far more than an extremely, talented, skilled, and knowledgeable health practitioner, that is proficient in many fields of health and nutrition. She possesses the rare gift of healing, in her heart, her soul and, her magical hands. Justine is a kind, compassionate, generous and devoted person and professional. My family and I feel blessed to know her and very fortunate to receive her rare and special treatments.

Justine, you were truly sent to us from up above, gratefully, Lynn
