Impaired Central Nervous System

"I was desperate because all Western and Oriental doctors had given up on me. After only ten treatment sessions with Justine Vo, I now can wear shoes, walk, sit down, eat and sleep without any pain". Nhat Nguyen, Boston, MA, USA

My name is Nhat Nguyen, from Boston, Massachusetts, USA. Nine months ago I was diagnosed of impaired Central Nervous System. My right foot was very painful and kept shaking as if I had received a permanent electric shock into my body. I could not stand, walk or lie down, and cannot wear shoes because of the constant shock and pain. I was seen by several Western and Oriental medical specialists who gave up in treating me. All the doctors shook their head and told me that there was no cure for my strange illness. I was desperate because all Western and Oriental doctors had given up on me. However I always believe that if I have the chance to meet the right doctor, I'll be cured.

I went to Toronto to seek for the right Oriental doctor. After having tried many Torontonians Traditional Chinese Doctors without success, I met Justine Vo via her ad which says "Stop Suffering! Don't Give Up! If you have treated everywhere else without success for any health conditions, call us".

After only ten acupuncture and massage treatment sessions with Justine, my foot no longer shook and the pain was gone forever. I can now wear shoes and walk around. I can sit down without any pain. I can eat better and sleep better.

I sincerely thank Justine who put all her heart into treating my conditions. I now continue to have maintenance massage sessions with Justine each time I come back to Toronto. I come to Toronto a few times a year.

Crohn's Disease

I am a 45 year old computer professional. Having active Crohn's disease for 25 years, I have always been in search of a way to control my symptoms. My symptoms include chronic intestinal pain and internal bleeding. Over the years I have been to seven GI specialists across Canada and the US. One of which is renowned as being the best in Canada. I tried every drug and test that was prescribed to me with little success. In most cases I found that not only did the drugs not help but the side effects would make me sicker than I was before. For an example, I tried a medicine called Remicade which was infused into my system. The cost of the medicine was almost $10,000. It did nothing to help my condition and I had a very bad delayed reaction and had to be rushed to the hospital by ambulance. I could go on and on with stories about the extreme side effects and archaic invasive tests I have been through which have only made me sicker and sicker. Needless to say I have given up on western medicine to treat this condition.

In desperation I have sought out natural healing alternatives to western medicine. I made a call to Justine's clinic. I instantly had a great rapport and trust with Justine. I enrolled in her weekly Acupuncture, Massage and Reflexology Therapies as well as taking the natural supplements and follow the balanced diet she recommended. After each visit I left her office in a state of relaxation and bliss. These therapies will access trigger points which relax the central nervous system and opens up blocked channels, allowing your natural healing process to take place. I have tried other natural healing clinics but have never achieved the same state of release that I get from a visit with Justine.

I'm not yet cured of Crohn's but my symptoms are now much more manageable. I'm confident that my condition will continue to improve as I actively engage in these therapies, adjusting my diet and ingesting natural supplements. I would highly recommend Justine's integrative therapies as a remarkable alternative to western medicine.
